Beijing Zhicheng Migrant Workers Legal Aid and Research Center

1. The Chinese government has released a series of relevant regulations and policies and increased efforts to investigate and deal with illegal activities, in order to protect migrant workers' rights.
2. Beijing Zhicheng Migrant Workers Legal Aid and Research Center provides a full range of services to migrant workers through legal consultation, case representation, legal training and policy advocacy based on empirical research.
3. Migrant workers' rights protection has been improved greatly both from regulations and judicial practices, however, many challenges still exist.
